LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Niles Public Works Department

Dear Mr. Besser:

As you know, the Public Department is one of the hardest working departments in the village, mostly doing all the dirty work and seldom receiving any recognition.

Almost every holiday they are called out on various duties such as snow plowing, watermain breaks, and numerous other jobs. This happens many weekends also.

Many people think they receive double time or time and a half for this. However, the pay they get hardly amounts to straight time.

They seldom complain, for this is their duty to the good people of Niles. However, sometimes things happen which are too much.

Last Christmas and Easter, and most of the other holidays, while most other men were home with their families, the Niles P.W. worked all day and most of the night. None of the men moaned about this, for when snow comes they must work.

This Christmas and New Year the generous village board has stated that the Thursday before each holiday the public works may leave work at 3:30 instead of 4:30, but must report to work as usual Saturday to work their usual half day.

Very few villages work Saturdays, but Niles P.W. does, without complaining. I think the Niles P.W. should be off the two Saturdays after the holidays so they could enjoy the weekend with their families. Do you think this is too much to ask?

When they heard they would have to work these two particular half days, all the men signed a paper, which was given to the mayor, requesting to be off these days. This did no good.

Maybe with the power of your paper you could put in a little article next week, which could possibly make our higher officials think of the low class Public Works for once. I'm sure your efforts would be very much appreciated.

Thank you,

An Irate Citizen

Postmaster Lutz Expresses Thanks

Dear Bud:

This is to thank you for the continued cooperation you have extended in publishing the postal items I have submitted. These have been instrumental in keeping our citizens and your readers informed on the operation of this office and the Christmas schedules.

Thank you, too, for the article in your column, "From the Left Hand" which appeared in the December 17 issue of THE BUGLE, I refer to the mention of the delay of a first class letter from Morton Grove to Chicago.

As you state so well, one letter proves nothing. Occasional mistakes are made by postal distributors, but people would be amazed at the number of letters, invitations and other matter that is deposited lacking entire addresses or the name of the city or the state. If we can determine where it belongs, we send it on, but of course, some delay is experienced. In many instances, we receive government post cards with complete messages on one side and the address side blank. We all make mistakes. We do whatever we can to contact the mailers, but if there is not even a last name to go by and the signature on the card is "Mary" or "Joe" we are helpless.

This letter, however, is not intended to excuse ourselves as individuals, or the Postal Service. I would like to point out the only sure way a patron can help himself, as well as us, to avoid delays.

All first class mail intended for delivery within the Chicago Metropolitan Area is delayed if it is not delivered in twenty-four hours, regardless of whether it is mailed at a station of Chicago or a suburban post office. This twenty-four limit also extends far beyond the metropolitan area and to many major cities where direct airline and train connections make it possible.

When people receive mail that is delayed, they should remove the contents, mark on the envelope the time and date they received it and bring or send it to their local post office. Give us a chance to find out what happened, investigate the cause for delay whether at the local office or in transit, and give us who may be responsible, the opportunity to correct any situation that may cause further delay. They should ask their correspondents to do the same. We will welcome this, and they will be helping us to render the type of service to which they are entitled.

I believe all concerned will be surprised by the very thorough manner in which the officials of postal installations, the Transportation Division and the Schemes and Routing Branches tackle each separate problem. While in all cases, they may not be able to fix responsibility where corrective action is possible, it is effected, and the patron is notified as to what has been done.

The main point I'd like to put across, Bud, is that it does no good to complain to a neighbor or friend. They can only offer sympathy, while we can help. We are most anxious to offer the help that enables us to please the people who pay us and are in fact "Our Boss."

Again, thanks for printing that item carried in Saturday's Chicago Daily News and thus giving me an opportunity to comment as I have, as well as ask for help to better serve those who depend on the services we offer.

Kind personal regards and sincere good wishes for the coming year.

Sincerely yours,

Robert R. Lutz
Postmaster

Niles Democrats Christmas Party A Huge Success

Over 1500 Niles youngsters (and a few parents) attended the Children's Christmas Show Party at the Golf Mill Theatre, Sat. Dec. 12, sponsored by the Village of Niles Regular Democratic Organization.

Once inside the theatre lobby they were greeted by Santa Claus, who listened to all their gift requests and before long they were chewing candy and laughing at cartoons. Each child received a Christmas stocking with candy inside. As an extra treat, transistor radios and many other prizes were awarded as Christmas gifts to lucky youngsters.

7100 Lill Block

gregated outside her home and sang Christmas carols as their gift to her. This was the beginning of a harmonious community bond.

The following year, the 15 neighbors united once again, each placing a letter spelling out MERRY CHRISTMAS on lighted signs in their parkway. They all set the date and time for their displays to be erected and lit up, so there was conformity.

The following year, Candy Canes were added, all made by the individual homeowners.

This year, a Christmas tree was decorated outdoors by the residents. Santa Claus came around ringing the doorbells and announcing his arrival into town. At each home, the children bundled up and formed a parade following their "Pied Piper" until all the homes were notified and all the children assembled near the Christmas tree where Santa asked his customary "Were you a good little boy/girl this year?"

This community spirit is not only displayed during the holiday season, but it continues throughout the year.

Take heed, all neighbors of the world. Focus your eyes on the 7100 block of Lill Street, Niles, Illinois, U.S.A. If 15 families of different origins can live together harmoniously, why not 150, or 1500 or 15,000, or...

The following people are the residents of the 7100 block of Lill Street:

Karl Schoch, 7122 Lill St., Ted Bieniak, 7124 Lill St., Curt Faust, 7125 Lill St., Joseph DiVita, 7126 Lill St., Chester Tarczynski, 7127 Lill St., Peter Chechopoulos, 7132 Lill St., Clement Juris, 7133 Lill St., Robert Keur, 7138 Lill St., William Thompson, 7139 Lill St., Hans Gerndt, 7145 Lill St., Casey Bielski, 7146 Lill St., Mae O'Neill, 7152 Lill St., Ronald Furmanski, 7157 Lill St., LeRoy Frebies, 7158 Lill St.

Residents of the 7100 block of Lill Street, Niles, gather round the Christmas tree to help decorate.

League Of Women Voters

The League of Women Voters of Morton Grove urges you to watch the first of a series of four special programs based on the United Nations activities on ABC Television Monday, December 28, at 8:30 to 10 p.m. Titled "Carol for Another Christmas," the Dec. 28 program is being produced and directed by Joseph L. Mankiewicz, and will star Peter Sellers, Ben Gazzara, Peter Fonda, Eva Marie Saint, and Sterling Hayden. "Carol for Another Christmas" is written by six-time Emmy Award winner Rod Serling, and is the first of four 90 minute dramatic programs underwritten by Xerox Corporation. The other three will be Feb. 19, May 5, and June 3.

THE BUGLE received the following poem from Nilesite Donald Kitzing, 7737 Nora Avenue:

CHRISTMAS

Two thousand years ago, this very night,
The heavens were beaming, ever so bright.
For the time had come prophesied of old,
For the giving of gifts of incense and gold.

From distances great they followed the star,
Some had come from ever so far.
The princes great laid down their sword,
At the sight of the birth of Christ our Lord.

The heavens sang and angels appeared,
The shepherds did quake and were greatly afeared.
The stars in their path, their movements ceased,
At the birth of Jesus, the Prince of Peace.

Two thousand years later 'tis still the same,
For all over the world we sing him fame.
We worship and pray to Jesus our Lord,
The soldiers in the field shield their sword.

In Church and home we sing his praise,
Each year at this time, as becomes His day.
For Peace on Earth, we sing in hope:
For the problems on earth, we wish to cope.
So not only at Christ mas should we pray

Left Hand: Mayor, Trustees Should Switch Jobs In April

by David Besser
Editor & Publisher

THE Bugle
serving the village of Niles 8139 Milwaukee Ave.
966-3910 VOL. 8, NO. 27 THE BUGLE, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 31, 1964 10¢ PER COPY

After the holiday season has ended the political jockeys will begin maneuvering for position for the April village election.

The one group which naturally has our attention is the incumbents, who will be up for election.

Recounting for fuzzy-minded historians.....in 1961 Mayor Blase and his friends upset the 20-year entrenched politicians, who had run the community since before World War II. Embarking on what they claim is a reform government, they gave Niles a new look, and thus are odds-on favorites to be re-elected to office. However, the clinker in this thinking is that they would likely be re-elected ONLY if they stayed together as one party.

Again, for historians, Blase was swept into office from total anonymity, when the trustee candidates chose him to run for Mayor. Blase had been in Niles less than two years, and was an unknown in the community. Trustees Scheel and Wente had done yeoman's work on the Zoning Board, battling the entrenched 20-year political pros, and thus created the image which led to the upheaval. Szymanski, the third trustee candidate, had been fighting his own battle down in Kirk Lane, heading the group there for several years.

When voters went to the polls Scheel, Wente and Szymanski led Blase at every poll in the village. Thus, it can be assumed that they carried Blase into office.

Now, four years later, the men are up for election, and it is obvious one or more of the trustees would like to move in to the top chair. But the situation is difficult, since Blase has handled himself with great aplomb the past four years.

Most frankly, if Scheel and Szymanski ran on a separate ticket, as was typical in previous elections, Blase would have a hard battle to retain his seat. If they joined together, they would be a shoo-in for re-election in 1965.

Blase has likely had the greatest four years of his life. To rise out of the herd and into such a prestige position, is an experience which happens to few persons. Blase has built up two businesses, since his election, and his future on the political scene is dependent on his re-election.

There is another factor which should be considered, which we find noteworthy. Szymanski, who we believe has been an outstanding official, manifests an official who seems disinterested in spending another four years as a trustee. Likewise, Scheel is in a similar position with Szymanski. They are aggressive, ambitious men, who have done their job well, with few thanks from anyone. While the Mayor receives the major benefit of being a public official the trustees do the everyday

ROBERT ILG, FOUNDER OF ILG PARK DIES AT 85

Editorial
Niles, 1965

At this time of the year THE BUGLE annually indulges in a bit of wishful thinking which it claims to be its New Year's resolutions which it would like to see resolved in the community during the new year.

The following are our 1965 resolutions:

1. VILLAGE MANAGER GOVERNMENT

We would like to see a referendum in the community to create a full time village manager government, which would empower the VM to act independently of the trustees and village president. He would receive a mandate from the residents, which would enable him to act in concert with the voters, rather than as an aide to the Mayor. Most of the North Shore villages have had this type of government for 25 years or more and has proven efficient. Most important, it takes the running of a $2,000,000 corporation out of the political arena.

2. TEEN-COMMUNITY CENTER

Niles had taken the first step in the eventual creation of a self-run center for teens by teens. The tremendous increase in the number of teens in the immediate years makes such an activity most needed. LaGrange, Illinois, has a most successful center, and such a model would make a contribution to our community.

3. RESIDENTIAL STREET LIGHTS

The local business communities have received a great bonanza by the use of village funds for lights on the main thorofares. It is now time first steps be taken to place these new types of lights in residential areas. It will be a many year project, if the big city can have residential lighting, there should be a similar "en-LIGHT-ening" in richer suburbia.

4. A SECOND SWIMMING POOL

Neighbors Skokie and Park Ridge have approximately 1 pool per 15,000 population. As we approach the 30,000 figure with 1 pool, it is time we enlarge this recreational facility.

5. PAINT-UP...CLEAN-UP...GROW-UP PROGRAM

There should be a concerted effort to improve the appearance of our area. A village-wide effort to annually clean-up, paint-up and plant shrubbery and flowers should be jointly considered by business, village and residential groups. Morton Grove now has a tree planting program, and Tr. Berkowsky's suggestion for a similar Niles program should be activated.

6. AIR POLLUTION LAW

Morton Grove established an ordinance controlling air pollution. It resulted from a comprehensive study, created by professional men of science, which was created after many months of study. Such a law should be created in Niles.

7. MORE PARKS

The never-ending quest for more park area should be the aim of the community. The contributions of industry and commerce to our tax bills in our areas should be used for increased community betterment. Additional parks are an integral part of such a program.

8. REDUCE TRAFFIC SPEEDS

The never-ending battle to reduce traffic speeds and improve the

Niles Fire Department Wins Honors

This is the sixth consecutive year that the Niles Fire Department has garnered first place honors in their population class (III) in the annual Metropolitan Chicago Fire Prevention Contest, as announced by the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry, sponsors of the contest.

Fire Chief Albert L. Hoelbl said that he and his men were extremely proud of this honor and grateful to the cooperation of the village fathers for the never-ending fire prevention program conducted throughout the year. He said that the fire department would continue in their efforts to make Niles the safest community in the country.

In addition to the first place awards, Niles, in 1959, was named grand award winner.

Hello There!

Builder Of 'Tower' Replica

Robert A. Ilg, founder of the Ilg Electric Ventilating Company and builder of the world's only replica of the Leaning Tower of Pisa, died in his home in San Francisco, California, on Christmas morning. He was 85 years of age.

Ilg purchased the property known as Ilgair Park at 6300 Touhy Avenue in the early of 1920's, and developed it into a recreational park in the decade that followed. He constructed swimming pools, picnic grounds, an artificial lake and other family recreational features. The original purpose of the park was to provide recreation for his family, friends, and company employees. He later enlarged the facilities and opened it to the public. His water requirements for swimming pools led to the construction of the renowned leaning tower landmark. Typical of the inventiveness that made him a leader in the ventilating business, Ilg constructed a nine story replica of the Pisa tower, which housed water tanks. The construction of the tilting tower required the invention of new tools and instruments that made it possible to accurately construct a building that was not plumb. He built the tower on a base able to support five times its weight.

In 1961 he gave 4 1/2 acres of his park, including the tower, to the YMCA of Metropolitan Chicago for the site of a YMCA building, now under construction. It will be known as the Leaning Tower YMCA, Ilg Park, and will be the largest suburban Y in the world, carrying on the traditional use of the park as established by Mr. Ilg.

Mr. Ilg is survived by his wife, two sons and a daughter.

Wins 3-6-9 Classic Tourney

Dolores Cummings of the Thursday Nite Ladies League, an 84 average bowler, won the 3-6-9 CLASIC BOWL House Tournament.

Dolores finished with an 809 series for three games with her handicap.

Winner of the scratch series trophy was Bernie Krause with 612.

Henry Aronson, proprietor, congratulated Dolores, and pointed out that this is proof that a low average bowler can win a handicap tournament just as well as a high average bowler.

Aronson added that the women who participated in this 3-6-9 house tournament had so much fun they asked him to repeat the tournament in the very near future.

Many more such activities are in the offing for CLASSIC BOWL'S league bowlers.

Niles FD Demonstration

The technique of mouth to mouth resuscitation was demonstrated to 35 Chicago Scoutmasters recently by the Niles Fire Department.

Firefighter Gerald Cameron, a certified American Red Cross Instructor, used "Resusci-Anne," a life-like inflatable mannequin in his presentation at the annual Round Table Meeting of the Indian Boundary District, Boy Scouts of America. The meeting, whose theme was "To Help Others," took place at the Faith Lutheran Church, 6201 W. Peterson Ave., Chicago.

Erich Buck, Chairman of the meeting, said that each of the Scoutmasters, who practiced the new life-saving method during the two-hour demonstration, will train the members of their troops in the technique.

Another Morn 'nother Yawn...

by Frieda Aron—966-9669

Be glad there are 360 more days until Christmas—there is time to forget shopping, presents, cards and the empty bank account.

* * * * * * *

"Daddy," said a friend's little boy, "take us to the ball game," if was a lovely day in July and Daddy felt expansive and wanted to be a pal to his son. "Okay, let's go," Son Michael was delirious with joy. "Can Eddy go with us" and Joey and David and Buddy, etc., etc., etc.?" So Daddy went off to Comiskey Park with eight boys in tow. As an extra treat to these children whose feet never graced the steel based floor of a local train, he took them by L—to show them the marvels of other forms of transportation than their fathers' high-priced autos. Daddy was waiting patiently on the platform for the train to arrive, engrossed in his own thoughts while the youngsters stood there shy and well-behaved somewhere along the same platform. Suddenly he was shaken out of his reverie when two patrolmen ran up to him, grabbed his arm and scooped up the little mob of boys, shouting furiously. It seems that the youngsters had been amusing themselves by throwing small stones down upon the cars passing under the station. They were all hustled off to the Police Station, where the sub-delinquents were arranged in order under portraits of the "Most Wanted Criminals" in the State and with tears flowing out of their precocious eyes, swore they didn't mean to do anything wrong. But it seems they had broken the windshields of two autos, whose owners were clamoring for their heads. Our friend sought to appease the irate men, who insisted upon filing charges against all of the defendants, by promising to pay all damages immediately. But no one trusted his checks, not having much faith in a man who would allow such behavior by his children! He did happen to be a reputable businessman and the police officers convinced the complainants to accept the checks for damage to their windshields and if there was any further difficulty, to report to the Police Station. So our hero wrote out two checks, totaling $150.

Maine High Placement Tests Begin Jan. 9

Merlin W. Schultz, coordinator of guidance in Maine Township High School District 207, has released the following information which will be of interest to students who plan to enroll in any one of the three Maine Township High schools next fall as freshmen.

The high school placement testing program will be held in the three high schools on Saturday, January 9, 1965, and Saturday, January 16, 1965, from 8 a.m. to 12 noon.

On January 9, students from East Maine junior high school will take the test at Maine East high school. Eighth grade students from Emerson and Lincoln junior high schools will be tested at Maine South high school, and eighth grade students from Chippewa, Thacker junior high school, St. Stephen's School and Immanuel Lutheran School will be tested at Maine West high school.

On January 16, students from Glenview, Emerson, and Chippewa and all parochial schools will be tested at Maine East. Maine South will be giving the test to Pennoyer School and parochial school students. Maine West will test students from Algonquin junior high school, St. Mary's School, Feehanville School, Our Lady of Hope, St. Paul Lutheran of Mt. Prospect, St. Andrew's Lutheran School and St. Emily School.

Students taking the test must bring two, No. 2, soft-lead, sharpened pencils with them. All other testing materials will be supplied at the test centers.

According to Schultz, the tests will help parents and students select high school courses which will be challenging and meet their needs and interests. The results of the tests will be of value to counselors and teachers for guidance and counseling purposes during the students' four years in the Maine Township high schools.

The testing program in the three Maine Township high schools are identical and will be administered by the guidance departments of each school.

The placement test battery will include the following four sub-tests: academic aptitude, arithmetic achievement, language arts achievement, and reading achievement.

YMCA Establishes Fine Arts School

Acting on the conviction that the arts provides the most significant opportunities development, five northwest YMCA departments have established the Northwest School of Fine Arts to begin classes on February 1, 1965. Twenty-eight academically trained teachers have been engaged to teach classes and conduct seminars and workshops in art, ballet, drama, literature and music. A curriculum has been drafted to meet the interests and needs of children, teen-agers, and adults regardless of previous training, skills or experience.

"We have become a nation of spectators rather than participants in the arts," said Dr. R.G. Gross, who will serve as director of the school.

"Self expression in the arts is one of the most effective methods by which we can encourage creativity and the school provides an opportunity for all ages to pursue their potential creative talents and aptitudes," he added.

The classes and workshops will be held in the Elmhurst, High Ridge, Leaning Tower, Northwest Suburban (Des Plaines) and Park Ridge YMCA departments. The executive secretaries of these five departments, L. Keith Boys, Donald Wilder, M. Marvin Lotz, Charles McClellan and Herman Herzog constitute the Board of Directors of the school. Registration will begin on Monday, January 4, 1965 at each of the five YMCA departments.

In discussing the establishment of the school, Mr. Marvin Lotz, Executive Secretary, Leaning Tower YMCA, Niles, Illinois, said, in part, "In pursuing our three-fold objectives in developing body, mind and spirit, we have made great strides in the field of physical fitness. Now we feel that in offering the fine arts to the public we will be implementing our services toward mental and spiritual maturity."

The art section of the school will offer a course in the fundamentals of art to teach children and appreciation for lines, colors, forms and symbols. A workshop in drawing and painting will permit the adult to work at his own level of accomplishment in sketches, pastels, water colors and oils. Three nationally known European and American trained ballet teachers will offer courses geared to girls and women who might be interested in ballet as a vocation or avocation.

The literature courses will embrace several Great Books groups and a seminar based upon a number of recent publications dealing with the complex moral and social problems that confront parents who are attempting to maintain cohesive homes for their families. Each of the five YMCA departments will also offer a workshop in creative writing which will assist the participants to prepare articles, poems, plays or essays to submit for publication.

A course in play production for children has been designed to assist the child to gain clear articulation and to gain the confidence that appearing in one act plays provides. Opportunities to participate in dramatic productions will be made available for adults who lack the training and experience to participate in professional productions.

The musical department courses embrace every facet of musical interest and skill. A course in the fundamentals of music will teach the grade school child the theory and mechanics of music which will serve as a distinct advantage for any type of vocal or instrumental performance. A children's chorus at each of the five YMCA departments will be combined in the spring to present a massed chorus singing classical folk songs. Group class instruction will be made available for beginning students in piano, voice, organ, violin and the band and orchestra instruments. Private lessons for advance students in these areas will also be offered at the convenience of the student.

The educational philosophy upon which the school was established embraces the point of view that an appreciation for beauty, truth and goodness can best be developed by the study of arts.

"The basic cultural elements of our Western democratic legacy are found in the arts," said Dr. Gross.

"The pace at which the urban child and adult lives, the excessive hours given to viewing TV and the increasing demands made upon the time of public school students do not encourage a pursuit of the values inherent in art, ballet, drama, literature and music," he concluded.

Even though registration for the courses may be made on any day throughout the month of January, definite days have been set aside for consultation at each of the five YMCA departments between the hours of 1:00 P.M. to 9:00 P.M. These dates are as follows:

Leaning Tower YMCA—Friday, January, 15, 1965

Northwest Suburban YMCA—Wednesday, January 20, 1965.

Park Ridge YMCA—Friday, January 22, 1965.

Arlington Tops Maine East Wrestlers

Maine East's "SteaminDemon" wrestlers met Arlington at Maine Friday, December 18. Arlington trounced Maine 30-11 for their first win over Maine in 9 years. Maine's matmen were sluggish and looked as though they didn't come to wrestle. Phil Eaton let the team down by not making weight and forced Coach Bob Schildgen to juggle the lineup at 127, 133, and 138. Tony Rochetti and Bruce Friedman, two returning lettermen, showed their old form, winning by identical 5-0 scores. Dan Tokoph, Tony's cousin, won convingly in his first varsity match. The "SteamIn Demons" now look forward to the Palatine Tourney on Dec. 28 and Dec. 29. Eight teams are entered, representing 6 conferences. Demon Bruce Friedman returns as defending champion at 165 lbs.

Troop 853 News And Notes

The Girl Scout Troop 853 of St. John Brebeuf recently held a Christmas Party at the home of their leader Mrs. James Hunt. The girls gave her a purse and quarters for spending money. Presentation was made by Rilla Hunt. Guests of Honor were Mrs. Arthur Koenigsberger and Mrs. Ray Haisler. The girls sang carols and exchanged gifts. Refreshments were served later. The girls also finished a service project for the Women of Portage Park Moose. They made all of the decorations for the tree by stringing popcorn, cranberries, making angels, lanterns and gilding walnut shells. Reports from the ladies of the Moose #427 were that it was the prettiest tree in many a year at the Lodge. In fact, the men of #220 asked if the tree would be left intact for them.

On December 30th, the girls will have a Splash Party at the Safari Motel. Many of the girls will be finishing the requirements for their Water Fun Badge at this time.

and much subdued, led his little mob out of the station, went back for his car and then off to Comiskey Park, where they missed only one inning. The parents of the other children offered to share in the expense but to date nothing has been forthcoming. Says our friend, "It was an expensive ball game. Don't know if I care much about being paley-walsy with my kids, like the magazines insist."

drudgery of officialdom, with few mentions of recognition.

There is an answer to this quandry, as there are to most complex problems.

Since the New Era officials have done well, and since their continued efforts would likely benefit Niles, they should stay together for another four years. But since the prestige and honor has gone to one man, while the work has been shared by all of the officials the New Era might select another Mayor candidate and ask Blase to run as a trustee.

This is a most unusual suggestion, and the likelihood of Blase stepping down is minimal. However, when it is realized that Blase was given the last four years because of several years efforts of the trustees prior to Blase being in the community the consideration should not be dismissed. Also, considering Blase did not win one poll vote, but was carried in by the trustees, means he has another debt to these men. Because of their many years of work prior to the election, Blase slid into office.

It is agreed by many that Blase has much ambition and that he intends to use the Mayor's office as a springboard to higher goals. Such ambition may be admirable.

However, one criticism could be pointed at Blase, which the other men are free from. When they ran for office they vowed their independence. Yet Blase alone became very political both at the township level, as well as with political Demos in the County, City and State. Likewise, in the election two years ago, only Blase among the New Era men actively supported the elected men of 1963. Thus, if Blase ran for Mayor again, it could be said only of him, that he had a hand in electing every man on the village board. Such political effort is not healthy when the need for independent thinking is paramount to good government. Men who owe debts are not as free in their thinking.

In terms of qualifications, it is impossible to say one man is better qualified than the next. We noted when Scheel acted as temporary chairman at one board meeting, it seemed to lift him beyond the dimensions he has shown as trustee. Former President Harry Truman seemed to display this same characteristic, rising to the occasion when it was necessary.

Blase has done an able job as Mayor. The trustees have done well in their jobs. If they are to be retained in office, they should have something more to aim for than the thankless job of being criticized by editors and residents alike, without receiving much overt gratification for their labors.

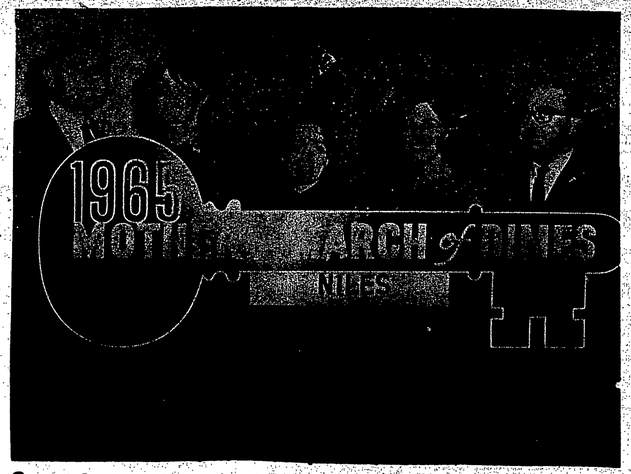
Certainly, if these officials do not run together, one or two of the foursome will not be re-elected in April. It might well be a loss for the community. However, if the Mayor and the trustees juggled jobs for the next four years, businesses would still prosper, Niles would benefit by experienced officials who have done well returning to office, and the need of recognition for the thankless role of public official, would be met.

As an addendum: It is probably in the best interest of the community to have a "new point of view" emanating from the Mayor's chair. A new point of view, with new enthusiasm is beneficient to a community.

2. Just as no coach or manager is any better than the players he has, likewise no Mayor is better than the trustees who serve with him.

3. The Mayor's chair is more honorary, than functional. Since no man "has a right" to being Mayor, nor "owns" the Mayor's chair, its being moved around from one well-qualified man to another is healthy.

4. We have written this, not to tweak the Mayor, but in the long-term best interest of the village. As of today, we would have to admit that Blase is best qualified to serve in this post. We have great admiration for the work accomplished during the last four years, and he deserves equal credit with the trustees on the Board. But again, we emphasize, the Mayor's post belongs to the people, other trustees deserve the same opportunity, and the switching of the post to another man would retain the independence necessary to prevent a solid political bloc controlling the Board.



Spearhead March Of Dimes Drive

More than 400 suburban leaders of the 1965 Metropolitan Chicago March of Dimes in Cook, DuPage and Lake counties met recently to hear key plans of the month-long January campaign for funds that will open the door of health and hope for victims of 600 significant birth defects which strike one out of every 16 newborn babies each year.

Editorial

safety of our communities should be spearheaded by a specific standing committee. This job, alone, is in addition to normal traffic safety programs and committees.

9. YEARLY CENSUS

The cost of taking a census annually would increase revenue to our communities by many thousands of dollars. We now receive $5 from motor fuel tax for each resident, based on a federal census. Since the census has been taken every second year, the community loses money on the odd year when the census is not taken. Niles increased by more than 4,000 in the past two years. If it can be assumed that about 2,000 new residents came into Niles annually, Niles lost the $10,000 less the cost of the census (from $1,800 to $5,000) during the year the census figure remained constant.

10. A VILLAGE CITIZENS COMMITTEE

A village citizens committee should be formed by representatives from business, religious groups, homeowner groups, and interested citizens, to make recommendations to the village board on community improvement. Such an independent committee, free of the political scene, could make a worthwhile contribution to creating the policy of the community. Certainly the wellspring of new ideas is not under the sole proprietorship of our elected officials. Independent citizens should also make a contribution in the area of formulating plans for their community.

Announce Volunteers For '53-Minutes'

Mrs. Dimmy Andrews, 8148 Oaklane, Niles, who serves as the "53-Minute March" chairman for United Cerebral Palsy in Niles has announced the names of volunteers who will be aiding in the annual fund raising appeal, January 10.

Mrs. Andrews said that the women from this area are part of a corps of 40,000 volunteers who will march on Sunday, January 10, in Cook, Lake DuPage and Kane. The marchers have a goal of $500,000 in the four-county area. Funds will support the program of research and rehabilitation services sponsored by United Cerebral Palsy of Greater Chicago.

"The reason we call it the '53 Minute March'," said Mrs. Andrews, "is because cerebral palsy strikes a newborn child every 53 minutes. United Cerebral Palsy estimates that about 25,000 babies will be born with cerebral palsy in 1965."

"This is the reason," she said, "that the UCP research program is so important. There is no cure now. The services for rehabilitation of the person who has cerebral palsy are vitally important, too. And, everyone in every community can receive these services."

Volunteers from this area serving as captains in the "53-Minute March" are:
